A Night At The Circus is a short story written in flash fiction narrative.

A circus is in town. A circus that holds mysteries and mayhem to it's attendees. What other story could combine the possibility of George Washington, ghosts, giants, lizard men and a janitor who may or may not be able to rip space and time apart.

A scientist who has lost his faith in himself

A woman who is repeating the mistakes of her mother

An old man, who quite literally deals with ghosts of his and other's past.

And of course, the aforementioned two giants - who are trying to advance the human race by giving us extra heads and arms. It doesn't work so well.

These are just a few among the cast of characters in this tale of loss, gain, and ascension.

Word Count: 8500 (roughly 30 pages)

Format: Short story written in flash fiction sections.
