Set Your Students' Social Sails: Teaching Children to Navigate the Social World C.A.G.S., Elizabeth Ann Hunt M.Ed.

Set Your Students' Social Sails is a springboard from which to dive in and teach children to navigate the social world. This easy to use curriculum provides educators and clinicians with a social skills program that spans a ten-month school year. The curriculum will:

- Follow a scope and sequence that fits within a ten-month school year.
- Provide a foundation of lessons for practitioners.
- Connect with general education curriculum activities, individual goals and objectives and the wider school culture.
- Provide a parent component that solicits connected participation.
- Provide a means to assess each student's social skills development.
- Attend to social as well as emotional and behavioral teaching and learning.

This curriculum is for both beginning and experienced educators. It is flexible and easy to build on and it can be adapted to the individual needs of your students. Teach your students how to play and work together so that they can learn to enjoy being with others and caring for others. Most importantly, have fun with your students. Set Sail and teach your children to navigate the social world!
